Self-Adhesive

CVP91A CVP --- black & pink

15 examples of the Priority Mail Express Same Day delivery stamp were unintentionally sold on June 24, 2014 in San Francisco. In August 2014, the USPS issued the following statement: "The USPS currently does not offer Same Day postage or service at retail locations. In very rare cases, zero day postage can be printed out using a self-service kiosk. The Same Day postage indicia... was intended for an internal USPS delivery initiative or pilot. To print postage indicating a zero day delivery day, multiple cut off times/next day delivery calculation combinations must be aligned, at the very same time a calculation request is received with an accept time in between them. This postage type has been identified as a defect and will be removed from all Service Delivery Calculators by August 31st." The USPS was also testing same day delivery in New York. Stamps inscribed SAME with New York ZIP codes may also exist.

Issue date is earliest known sale date. Copies of this item printed on paper inserted right-side-up (pink phosphor at right margin) have not been seen.

Regarding the large stamps: The large version is post-trimmed, that is, there is not, as on some large labels, left red tagging line on the backing paper. On one type of label, the tagging is applied after trimming the paper; trimming leaves backing paper showing on both sides of the label. The PME SAME large stamps are the other type, where the tagging is applied first and then the paper is trimmed, leaving no tagging on the backing paper on the left side of the stamp. The 14 large stamps are numbered on the back in pencil, and the numbers refer to the following information:

- 1 - glossy tagging, waiver of signature
- 2 - matte tagging, signature required, insurance fee
- 3 - combination tagging, left notch (below this notch on the left side of the stamp paper, the rest of the stamp paper is slightly narrower), waiver of signature
- 4 - matte tagging, waiver of signature
- 5 - combination tagging, dotted guideliness (red guideline not on stamp paper), return receipt requested, signature required, insurance fee
- 6 - glossy tagging, waiver of signature
- 7 - glossy tagging, return receipt requested, signature required
- 8 - combination tagging, dotted guidelines (red not on stamp), waiver of signature
- 9 - glossy tagging, left notch, waiver of signature
- 10 - combination tagging, waiver of signature
- 11 - matte tagging, waiver of signature
- 12 - combination tagging, left notch, waiver of signature
- 13 - on small Priority Mail envelope with cellophane window, matte tagging, waiver of signature
- 14 - on Express Mail packaging cardboard envelope, combination tagging, in combination w/ small PME 2-DAY, waiver of signature, a letter was addressed on top of this cover, creating some written albino indentations

Regarding the small stamps: "Looped" vs. "pointed" concerns the "R" written in pencil on a few of the labels. The stamp indicia were printed over these "Rs". The designations refer to the difference in transitioning from the bottom of the arc to the right stem of the R. The 15 small stamps are numbered on the back in pencil, and the numbers refer to the following information:

- 1 - looped R inverted, separation stub
- 2 - pointed R inverted, pointed R inverted in right label
- 3 - pointed R inverted
- 4 - short roulettes, separation stub
- 5 - short roulettes, looped R inverted in right label
- 6
- 7 - separation stub
- 8 - long roulettes
- 9 - pointed R inverted in right label
- 10 - long roulettes, stamp dented in production
- 11 - stamp dented in production
- 12 - in combination w/ block of 3 variable rate stamps, separation stub, short roulettes in block of 3
- 13 - on cover, pointed R inverted, in combination w/ PME 1-DAY stamp, right delivery date label and tracking label
- 14 - on cover, in combination w/ PM 2-DAY stamp and 2 left white tagging variable rate stamps
- 15 - on cover
